We produce cooling devices for laboratory needs and industrial use up to 2000 watts cooling refrigeration capacity.

Our standard set contains deep freezers and chest freezers, cold boxes, circulation coolers, immersion coolers, cold plates, cold bathes and cooling thermostats.

For the industry we produce special production material-testing deep freezers completely from stainless steel in all dimensions, made to the client's order.

Another important field of our business is the development and manufacturing of OEM models. Our cooling units are designed following the special demands of our clients and built into their systems.
